

THE GENEVIEVE SOCIETY

Do you wish that there were as many women elected officials in Pennsylvania as men? Would you like to be inside the smoke-filled rooms when decisions are made? Are you hoping for progress on so-called “women’s issues” such as health care and education?

Then become a member of the Genevieve Society and attend our 2nd annual event at Pennsylvania Society.

A number of us who are active in Pennsylvania politics and policy have formed the nonprofit Genevieve Society. The Genevieve Society honors and celebrates the life, career and accomplishments of the Honorable Genevieve Blatt, the first woman elected to state-wide office in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Genevieve Society is a state-wide organization open to all women within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As a non-partisan organization, the Genevieve Society encourages, educates, supports and mentors women seeking a greater role in society through elected office, public service and corporate governance. The Genevieve Society also will provide us with the opportunity to network and make connections that will help us in our businesses, professions and political endeavors.

We are hosting a reception during Pennsylvania Society from 4-6 pm on Friday, December 10 at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Please indicate your willingness to join us by filling out and returning the slip below no later than October 30. We hope to see you on December 10 and to work with you to increase the positive impact of women in the Commonwealth.

This is not a political action committee and, accordingly, we may accept corporate or firm checks.

Sincerely,
Abbe Fletman Denise Smyler
